Some Republicans think removals are not being made fast enough. Most of the Democratic and Mugwump newspapers pretend to think the new broom is knocking spots out of the men Mr. Cleveland put on guard. Probably the pace is about right.

Mr. Ronger P. Porter is already justifying his appointment as Superintendent of the Census. He is starting the mill promptly and the men he is choosing as chief assistants are another guarantee of thorough work. The President made no mistake when he invited Mr. Porter to take charge of the next census.

Ir Wheeling's brick-paved streets were kept clean they would be as dry as a bone within half an hour after a hard rain. The primary trouble is that Council has nover devoted enough money to cleaning the streets. The work should be done by machinery and at night. If it were so done and well done the appearance of the city would be vastly improved.

A Delicate Question.

The members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society have been trying to Missionary Society have been trying to the special pointment of W. H. Stellers thereto, we are glad to say that it was never managed better. It has been all that its patterns could desire.

W. H. Stellers and his kind and accomplished wife have won the confidence and esteem of every person who patronized the office during his incumbency, and can retire with the satisfaction of knowing that no one has any fault to find.

His successor, Milton N. James, is a son of Capt. Hamilton B. James, who was killed at the head of his command at the second battle of Bull Run, August 29, 1862. Capt. James was a brave sold.

The Register harps long and loud about W. H. Stellers being a crippled Union soldier. That he is a Union soldier is true, and it is also true that he is a cripple, but it is not true that he received his wounds while in the service of his country. By exposure, while in the army, he contracted lung trouble, which possibly resulted in the loss of his left lung, for which the Government now pays him a pension of $30 permonth. The Register states "that he (Stellers) received a minnie ball in his lung, and that he carries the enemy's lead in his body to this day." A more glaring mistatement of facts could not possibly be conceived than this. The fact is he never was wounded at all in the army.
